

About Us

FOUNDED IN 2003, KJ Poultry is a community owned and operated business in upstate New York, producing quality poultry and meat products. Since opening its doors it has grown into the largest kosher poultry plant in New York State with over 250 employees.

COMMITTED TO PRODUCING the highest quality kosher poultry products under the strictest standards of rabbinical supervision, all KJ Poultry products are produced in a USDA-approved facility. The company's kosher supervisors and rabbis ensure that all superior standards of kashrus are met; and many non-rabbi and kosher supervisory positions are members of the Orthodox Kiryas Joel community.

KJ POULTRY PRODUCES a wide variety of poultry goods, including many varieties of chicken and turkey products. All products are available in bulk packaging for distribution and food service; and in retail packaging for supermarkets and other retail trade. Extreme sensitivity is taken to ensure that all products are packaged, handled and stored properly guaranteeing that the highest level of product safety and quality are met. The KJ Poultry plant is under the constant supervision of Rabbi Getzel Berkowitz, the highly respected dayan (rabbinical judge) of Kiryas Joel. In addition, the Orthodox Union (OU), Star K, and the Sephardic Beit Din of America (SBD) also provide certification.

Kashrus.

KOSHER CHICKEN IS JUST KOSHER CHICKEN. RIGHT? WRONG!

Committed to the highest level of kosher, every KJ Poultry product meets the strictest kashrus standards possible. There are no exceptions and even the most difficult production demands do not compromise the kashrus standard, ever!

KJ Poultry is certified kosher under Rabbi Getzel Berkowitz of Kiryas Joel, Star K, the Orthodox Union (OU) and the Sephardic Beit Din of America (SBD), whose symbols proudly adorn each product. Rabbanim who frequently visit our plant speak highly of the kashrus and production process. Keeping the highest kosher poultry standards has catapulted KJ Poultry as the industry leader in kosher poultry.

Quality.

A CHICKEN IS A CHICKEN IS A CHICKEN. RIGHT? WRONG!

The quality of chickens varies tremendously from farm to farm. Our chickens and turkeys are raised in Pennsylvania's lush countryside where they an enriched relaxed lifestyle with plenty of fresh air and a diet free of animal by-products. Our chicken and turkey are raised free of antibiotics and hormones, by a team of expert farmers. Our poultry is recognized as superior in quality to many other national brands in the market.

Taste.

TASTY. DELICIOUS. SCRUMPTIOUSNESS.

When it comes to taste, we leave no stone unturned. Our chickens are fed a healthy proprietary all-natural vegetarian diet that is free of animal by-products and raised without the use of antibiotics, steroids or hormones. This commitment to keeping our chickens 100% natural, ensures their superior taste and exceptional quality. Our amazingly tender and juicy chickens are worthy of the most discriminating palates, ensuring that KJ Poultry stands shoulders above the rest.
